Evershine Marbles

About us

Evershine is well-known brand in India, in the field of stone mining and manufacturing. The company started its operation in 1980s with its head office in Makrana, Rajasthan. Makrana is the Marble City of India and is famously known for white marble used in Taj Mahal, the eight wonder.

Ours is a family owned business with an experience that spans three generations. We purchase blocks from all over the world and process it using our latest technology machines. Our expert team comprises of highly experienced supervisors and project managers that ensure 100% customer satisfaction.

Aim

Our aim is to become the leading supplier of the stone industry in the world. We make sure that each & every slab gets its right treatment.

We believe that customers purchasing stone have emotions attached to it, therefore it means more than just a décor item to us. We have conceptual designs for different projects including individual house, complete township, big hotels, airports, shopping malls, IT centres and others.
